JB Contracting is absolutely amazing! I placed a call based on the suggestion of our home inspector, who knew of JB's great reputation in the area. Joe Battaglia came over immediately--that was a sign of the good things to come.

We contracted JB to help us renovate our Howard Beach house prior to putting it on the market. We needed so much work done, and quickly. To everything on the list Joe commented, "We can take care of that." Our list was long: roof, windows, siding, driveway, sidewalks, brick re-pointing, garage doors, front door, lighting,..on the outside. Inside, we needed a kitchen face-lift, bathroom renovations, painting throughout, floors sanded, electrical, carpentry, large and small. (For instance, JB's amazing carpenters took a junky basement, constructed a paneled family room, and cleaned out and re-finished the entire basement made it look brand new. They even installed a main support beam!) The painters were meticulous--real old school craftsmen.

When there was an item I needed changed, Joe commented, "No problem." The entire house was renovated in six weeks, including a clean-up crew which left the house in immaculate condition.

JB's prices were extremely fair, surprisingly fair actually. Even though it was a large job, I never had a sense of being "ripped off." JB took care of everything faster than I could have imagined, usually within a day. "Done," Joe would comment to the extensive punch list.

The icing-on-the-cake was that just as soon as the house was placed on the market, bids began to come in--even higher than we had anticipated.

Needless to say, we are extremely grateful to have found JB Contracting. They are professional, efficient, fair, honest and competent. As I said, absolutely amazing!
